

HelpChat

Live Online A.A. Service One A.A. Member to Another

HelpChat is looking for volunteers! If you have a smartphone and are looking for a convenient way to do 12-step work, come get orientated to chat with newcomers who are seeking help!

Sat., September 22
6:30 PM – 7:30 PM at Central Office
1821 Sacramento St. / Van Ness Ave.

SF Unity Day, Sat., October 13
3:00 PM at Urban Life Center
1101 O'Farrell St. / Franklin St.

Here's how HelpChat works:

When someone visits aasf.org, a blue chat bubble appears and from there a visitor can send us a message and a volunteer will answer. The goal here is to provide live chat service for anyone new to A.A. or an existing member.

This involves offering the newcomer the opportunity to have an A.A. member (12 Step volunteer) call them or meet them at a meeting and may include reassurance by explaining how it works, link pamphlets, A.A. approved resources. They will also be given an option to speak to a recovering alcoholic who will understand and share their experience, strength and hope. Sometimes we also help visitors find local meetings and do our best to answer questions for existing members.

Come join us at the orientation, or pass on the message that we are looking for volunteers. Email us at helpchat@aasf.org for more information.